

Mosan is an ecological sanitation solution for people living in challenging environments in developing countries. The global sanitation crisis and 2.6 billion people without access to safe sanitation, health and environmental issues are increasing the demand for rapid-deployable and feasible solutions.

To support Mosan's vision of bringing safe sanitation to 120'000 people by 2025, the Mosan association has been founded. The association's mission is to bring new technologies, hygiene education and services to people in need, by leveraging container-based sanitation solutions as one of the main pillars to solve the one of the biggest crisis of all times.

To grow and develop the Mosan association, we are looking for an independent, open-minded character, who is excited to take on this opportunity:
